THE CITADEL

Luxury in Peace & Comfort

Nestled in the hills of Asokoro, on the prestigious Mary Slessor Street, The Citadel brings together luxury, comfort, security and prominence for the discerning buyer.

The Citadel comprises just eight luxurious three-bedroom residences, each offering over 200 square metres of refined living space, with all bedrooms en-suite and a domestic quarters — a rare combination of generous space and true privacy.

A dedicated lift serves the residences, making movement effortless. Comfort is heightened by a large swimming pool, a fully equipped gym, and an expansive green recreational area overlooking the hills of Asokoro. The development is secured by a perimeter wall, round-the-clock professional security personnel and CCTV surveillance.

THE INVESTMENT CASE

An Address That Holds Its Value

Embassies and diplomatic residences drive steady demand from tenants and buyers who need international-standard security. Little land, strict development control and government-held stock make quality new apartments in Asokoro rare — and demand from diplomats, multinationals and senior officials makes the district less exposed to economic cycles.

HIGHEST SECURITY

Permanent checkpoints and patrols around the Presidential Villa district — Abuja's safest address.

DIPLOMATIC ENCLAVE

Embassies and diplomatic residences sustain demand from tenants and buyers alike.

RESILIENT VALUES

Little land and strict development control make quality new apartments rare.

SCARCE NEW SUPPLY

A diplomatic and senior-official tenant base insulates values from economic cycles.

PRICE POSITIONING — THREE-BEDROOM APARTMENTS, ASOKORO (2026)

Asokoro market range: ₦280 million – ₦900 million · Market average: approximately ₦480 million, mostly older stock · The Citadel: new build, with full amenities.
